ISBIS 2016

The ISBIS biennial international symposia are becoming the hallmark meeting place for the international academic and professional communities, made of both developers and users, interested in Business and Industrial Statistics. The ISBIS 2016 will take place in Barcelona, Spain on 8-10 June 2016, hosted at Universitat Politècnica de Catalunya by the Department of Statistics and Operations Research. The focus of the conference is on data mining, time series, and applications. The link to the conference is www.stat.duke.edu/~banks/barcelona.
