

ISBIS News August 2016

2017 y-BIS Conference

The 2017 y-BIS conference will be held in Bu Ali Sina University in Iran on May 10-12, 2017. The conference is organized by Kristina Lurz and Rahim Mahmoudvand. The y-BIS is the Young Statistician's group in the International Society for Business and Industrial Statistics (ISBIS), with the purpose of bringing together young researchers and professionals working on business, financial and industrial statistics, to help support their career development and enjoyment.

ISBIS 2017

The 2017 ISBIS international symposium will be held on June 7-9, 2017, at the IBM Watson Research Center in New York. The theme of the conference is Statistics in Business Analytics. The conference is organized by Julie Novak (IBM), Stefa Etchegaray (IBM), Hongxia Yang (Yahoo!), Marian Farah (The Climate Corporation), and Angela Schoergendorfer (Google).

ISBIS New Website

The new official website for ISBIS is isbis-isi.org. The website features ISBIS news, conference information, publications, memberships, and other information about the society.