Irving Fisher Committee for Central Bank Statistics: Ninth Biennial Conference “Are post-crisis statistical initiatives completed?”

On 30-31 August the Irving Fisher Committee for Central Bank Statistics held its Ninth Biennial Conference, titled “Are post-crisis statistical initiatives completed?” The event was attended by about 150 participants and almost 50 papers were presented on various topics, such as globalisation, micro data, innovative data for policy assessment, data dissemination, big data, and machine learning in statistics. On this occasion, Mr Jiaming Soh from Bank Negara Malaysia received the IFC Young Statistician Award for his paper, “Disentangling the supply and demand factors of household credit in Malaysia: evidence from the credit register.”
