

Exciting news! Stat has received its first Impact Factor!

We are pleased to inform you about the new impact factor of Stat. A first-time impact factor of 0.47 is a great starting point for this young journal. Thank you to our editors and authors for your contributions toward this achievement. Explore the journal now.

About Stat

Stat is a joint venture between the ISI and Wiley, an online only, rapid communication research journal, publishing articles in all facets of statistics and related interdisciplinary areas. Stat is a journal with a difference.

What makes Stat different?

Speed: a single pass, high quality review process that aims to publish acceptable articles within 30 days of submission, but does not allow for revision and resubmission.

Concision: a maximum article length of 10 pages of text, excluding abstract, key words, figures and tables.

Support: inclusion of electronic support materials including data, graphs, images, video and code.

Scope: addresses all areas of statistics and interdisciplinary areas.

Electronic delivery: delivery of articles and innovative forms of supplementary materials, using technology to allow readers to access and connect with content in novel ways.
