

TIES News November 2019

Ties Board of Directors Election Results

The following TIES members were elected as members of the Board of Directors and took office on 1 September 2019:

President-Elect: Yulia Gel (United States)

Secretary: Claire Miller (United Kingdom)

Treasurer: Leticia Ramirez (Mexico)

Publications Officer: Elena Naumova (United States)

Communications Officer: Patricia Menendez (Australia)

Europe Regional Representative: Francesco Finazzi (Italy)

North America Regional Representative: Hao Zhang (United States)

Rest of the World Regional Representative: Hsin-Cheng Huang (Taiwan)

These officers have joined the new TIES President Lelys Bravo and current regional representatives (Ashley Steel, Marta Blangiardo and Petra Kuhnert) in forming the new TIES board.

The 29th Conference of The International Environmetrics Society (TIES'20)

The 29th conference of the International Environmetrics Society (TIES'20) will be held in London, UK on 14-16 September 2020. It is hosted by the Imperial College London and brings together insights and perspectives of researchers from different disciplines such as statisticians, mathematicians, engineers, environmental, computer and data scientists for bridging knowledge and pathways to a more sustainable world. More>>

Call for Nominations for Abdel El-Shaarawi Early Investigator Award

The International Environmetrics Society calls for nominations for The Abdel El-Shaarawi Early Investigator (AEEI) Award 2020. Established in 2002 by the TIES Board, this Award recognizes and honors early investigators who have made outstanding contributions to the development of statistical and/or quantitative approaches for research in the environmental sciences. More>>