Joint ISI + IBS Initiative for the 2020 International Biometrics Conference
ISI Young Ambassadors to IBS
5-10 July 2020

The International Statistical Institute invites young ISI Members to submit applications for the opportunity to participate as ISI Young Ambassador in the 30th International Biometrics Conference (IBC 2020) to be held in Seoul, Korea from 5 – 10 July 2020.

This funding is a joint initiative of the International Statistical Institute (ISI) and the International Biometric Society (IBS). This call is open to all young ISI Members, there will be at least one recipient from a developing country. The selected ISI Young Ambassadors to IBS will participate in the IBC 2020 and represent the ISI to help promote collaboration between the young statisticians of ISI and IBS. Selected applicants may be invited to present their work at the IBC 2020.

Selection of eligible candidates is done by a Selection Committee based on the following criteria:

- Applicant’s personal motivation, the quality of and demonstration of high interest and active participation in the ISI and IBS initiatives.
- Applicants who have obtained their most recent statistics qualification in the last ten years, i.e. their PhD (or latest degree in statistics) was awarded after 1st January, 2010.
- Preference is given to applicants who have not previously attended the International Biometrics Conference.
- Priority is given to those who have not been previously funded.

Funding will consist of the following:

- Registration for 2020 IBC
- Return airfare to Seoul, Korea based on economy class travel.
- An allowance covering maximum of six nights for reasonable accommodation.
- Visa costs.

Application Procedure
Applications must be submitted electronically using the ISI Online Submission System by March 2, 2020.