ICOTS 10 Update

While the 2017 IASE-sponsored Satellite Conference in Rabat (11-14 July 2017) is yet to take place, it's time to start thinking about the 2018 event. The 10th International Conference on Teaching Statistics (ICOTS 10) will be held from 8 - 13 July 2018 at the Kyoto TERRSA, in the center of Kyoto, Japan.

The conference website https://icots.info/10/ has now the basic information, with more to appear over the next year.

The International Program Committee, led by Katie Makar, has announced the theme "Looking back, looking forward" and ten major topics:

1. Statistics education: Looking back, looking forward
2. Statistics education at the school level
3. Statistics education at the post-secondary level
4. Improving teaching and capacity in statistics education
5. Statistics education in the workplace, government and across disciplines
6. Innovations in teaching probability
7. Statistical literacy in the wider society
8. New approaches to research in statistics education
9. Technology and multimedia in statistics education
10. Organisations and collaboration in statistics education

If you are considering organizing a session with multiple presenters within one of these topics, please note that the initial proposal deadline is currently scheduled for 31 July. A more formal call will appear soon.

Publications and Awards involving IASE Members

IASE members have recently published books and received major awards. Here is a list of accomplishments received. If you have a major publication that might be of interest to IASE members, or a national-level award, please let the news editor know (adam.molnar at okstate.edu); notice will appear in the next monthly update.

Book: Data Visualization and Statistical Literacy for Open and Big Data, edited by Theodosia Prodromou with contributions from other IASE members [http://www.igi-global.com/book/data-visualization-statistical-literacy-open/176342]

Award: IASE President Andrej Blejec received the highest award of the Statistical Society of Slovenia for his “Outstanding contribution to the development of statistics in Slovenia”.