Awards

The ISI and its Associations have prizes and awards that they present every two years at the Awards Ceremony of the World Statistics Congresses. The criteria, rules and announcements for nominations are available during the year before each WSC. Selection of recipients takes place months prior to the WSC.

For detailed information on each award, please follow the links provided below.

The ISI awards are being coordinated by the ISI Award Coordinator, Vice-President Kerrie Mengersen.

ISI awards

Mahalanobis International Award

This award is sponsored by the Government of India. It is awarded to a statistician from a developing country in recognition of lifetime achievements in Statistics and the promotion of best statistical practices in a developing country or countries.

Founders of Statistics Prize for Contemporary Research Contributions

This prize recognises a contemporary research contribution, published within the last three decades, that has had profound influence on statistical theory, methodology, practice, or applications. The prize is sponsored by Elsevier B.V.

Jan Tinbergen Competition for Young Statisticians

This award is for best papers by young statisticians addressing statistical problems of real relevance in building statistical capacity in countries with limited statistical infrastructure.

International Prize in Statistics

This prize is given every other year by the International Prize in Statistics Foundation, which is comprised of representatives from the American Statistical Association, International Biometric Society, Institute of Mathematical Statistics, International Statistical Institute and Royal Statistical Society.
ISI & Esri Student Poster Competition

The competition was launched in 2018 with the aim to promote research, encourage spatial thinking and Inspire curiosity about statistical spatial analysis, geographic patterns, and geocomputing. The competition is sponsored by Esri and ISI. Prizes are awarded to first, second and third-place participants. The awards ceremony takes place during the ISI World Statistics Congress.

Service awards

These are awarded for outstanding service to the ISI and the statistical community. Winners are selected by the EC.
