Did we achieve the objective of this workshop?

The objective of this workshop is to prepare Official Statisticians and researchers to draft and submit manuscripts to Official Statistics journals.

The workshop focuses on manuscript drafting and structuring skills as well as on anticipating the knowledge level and expectations of the audiences

And on organizing and preparing a manuscript for submission to a journal in the field of Official Statistics.

Closing of the third session and the workshop
Pieter Everaers (SJIAOS)

Did we achieve the learning targets of this workshop

To gain knowledge on the process and procedures

To learn about the attitude and motivation

To motivate and overcome the hesitation or resistance

..... to draft and submit a manuscript to an international refereed journal in Official Statistics

The workshop will not increase your academic domain specific or statistical knowledge and is surely not a guarantee for a successful submission to an international journal, however, based on the better understanding of how these journals function and how the editorial work is organized it will increase the chances for a successful submission.
